"I have often heard," said the commander of the Thunderer, "that you have some fellows in your country called Kentuckians, who are reckoned great shots with the rifle."

"Yes, sir," replied Lieut. N-, "their fame is great in that line, which is easily accounted for. As soon as they are able to shoulder a rifle, they commence practising, and in course of time, become excellent marks-

"They may be very clever, but I believe we have better shots on board our vessel." "I do not belong to that section of the country," observed Lieut. N-, "and have had but little practice with the rifle; but, if I mistake not, we have a Kentuckian in company who will stand up for his native State." "Yes, on all occasion," said our purser, a tall, muscular descendant of one of the first settlers of the State." "What say you, then, gentlemen, to a shooting match to-morrow morning?"

" Agreed, with all our hearts," said the Yantiful grove, and placed their target seventyfive yards distant. The English rifle is different from the American, the barrel being shorter and the stock heavier. Six picked men from the Thunderer were on the ground, all of whom fired. No one, however, "cut the paper," (the size of a dollar,) although several of the balls were close to it. The shots were considered excellent; the English and French officers present were greatly astonished at the proficiency of the riflemen. The commander of the Thunderer, turning to the purser, said with a smile:

"What do you think of that? I take it you'll find it difficult to come up to it." "You may think so; but I consider it no shooting at all," said the Kentuckian. "Vous montez le haut cheval," said a French officer.

" Je vous montrai," said the Kentuckian. " Fire away," said the Englishman, " I'll bet a wine supper for all hands," said brought from home, and fired. The paper was cut! The second fire was better than the first, and the third "bored the centre." Nothing so that I can get him again could depict the surprise of all present; the Englishman acknowledged the corn, and said he was satisfied. The Kentuckian enjoyed a hearty laugh, declaring it was nothing to what he could do-that he would be ashamed of such firing in old Kentuck. Rolling a quid to another, he continued: o "I must have another shot to show you what can be done with a rifle, and to convince my French friend that I am not boasting." The whole party stood silent in a row, and the Kentuckian retreated about forty yards, making the distance from the tree to where he stood, near one hundred and twenty yards. Ordering a paper of the same size of the other to be put up in the same place, he re-loaded, drew his broad rimmed beaver over his eyes, and after taking deliberate aim blazed away. ball is about the eighth of an inch below the paper; the next time I'll bring it."

On examination, the ball was found to be produced on all present, with the exception of the Yankees, who were "used to it."

"This lick will bring the persimmon," said the Kentuckian, as he raised his piece high up, and gradually lowered it and fired. paper fell from the tree, the ball "driving home" the nail which supported it! Language cannot describe the looks of the foreigners, and particularly the natives, who crowded round the Kentuckian in numbers. That night the wine flowed freely at the "Old Admiral's," and a more joyous party never met

There are thousands of cases the City of New York, which we will refer to with leasure, and to men of character well known. UNITED STATES OFFICER.-Cap*. G. W. McLean, mem per of the New Jersey Legislature, late of the United States Navy, has kindly sent us the following certificate.

Rahway, January 25, 1847. A year since I was taken with the influ nga and my whole system left in a debilitated state. I was induced to try Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla, and after taking two or three bottles I was very much relieved, and attributed it entirely to the said Sarsaparilla I have continued taking it, and find that I improve every day. The success of Dr. Townsend's preparation of Sarsaparilla appears to be of the most extraordinary charac ter. We publish to-day two certificates in its behalf, one from Capt. McLean, of this town, and one from Rev Mr. White, of Staten Island, a gentlemsn well known in Rahway .- Capt. McLean believes the medicine to have saved his life, and Mr. White seems to entertain an e qually strong confidence in its efficacy. Intelligent men like these would not praise so s rongly what they did not fully believe to deserve it. SCHOFULA CURED.-This certificate was handed in to Dr. Townsend's office this week, and conclusively prove that his Sarsap willa has perfect control over the most obstinate diseases of the blood. RHEUMATISM & THE PILES. September 10, 1846. Dr. Townsend-Dear Sir: My wife has been for seveal years afflicted with rheumatism. She has tried ma ly different remedies to obtain some relief, but all to no purpose. She was finally induced, by seeing your advertisement, to give your Sarsaparilla a trial. We procured some of it from your agent (Mr. Van Buskirk) and gives me pleasure to state that after using it she expe ienced great relief, and was in a very short time per feetly cured. I was also (together with a man in my employ) badly troubled with piles, and by using a smal quantity of your Sarsaparilla, our complaint was com pletely cured. I consider it one of the best of medicine and would advise all who are afflicted to give it a trial GARRIT GARRABRANT, - 123 Market-st, Newark.
